To whom it may concern,

I have known Morten Paustian for the last seven years and have followed Morten's development as a researcher. I have come to recognize him as a very dedicated academician.

Morten is a pioneer within his field of research – modern philosophy and scientific thought. He is now a mature person for leadership tasks. He is original in his philosophical way of doing research, and there is little doubt about his outstanding research capabilities.

I have always supported Morten, and I believe that his freedom of mind is key in what creates his unique attractiveness. His integrity is unquestionable.

Yours sincerely,
